LOUISVILLE, KY.:
TUESDAY MORNING.—FEB. 26, 1861.

SARCOPHAGUS FOR HENRY CLAY.—The Pittsburgh Journal, of Thursday, says: On Wednesday we noted the arrival in this city, en route to Lexington, Ky., of the beautiful marble sarcophagus intended for the remains of Henry Clay, manufactured by Mr. Struthers, of Philadelphia, and designed by Mr. Frederick Graeff, of that city. The material used, which is pure white marble, is from a quarry in Montgomery county. On the raised lid, encircled in the laurel wreath, is the name—Henry Clay—in black marble letters; on the end, in front of the base, is the following: "Presented by William Struthers, Mason, Philadelphia." The inscriptions on the side of the base are from Clay's speeches. One said, "I had rather be right than President;" "Truth is mighty, and Public Justice certain." Again: "I can, with unshaken confidence, appeal to the Divine Arbitrator for the truth of the declaration that I have been influenced by no impure purpose, no personal motive; have sought no personal aggrandizement, but in all my public acts I have had a sole and single eye, and a war and devoted heart, directed and dedicated to what, in my best judgment, I believed to be the true interest of my country." Adams took the sarcophagus from Pittsburg to its destination grain.

THE NEW ORLEANS CUSTOMS.—We are pleased to observe that the Customs authorities at New Orleans have permitted importations destined for ports above, to come forward, and bonds are given in New Orleans without other change in the bonds than the name of the obligee. A registry of the entry is made at New Orleans and forwarded to the port of delivery exactly as heretofore, and the entries are paid as usual. The following letter from the New Orleans Collector explains the matter more fully:

CUSTOM-HOUSE, NEW ORLEANS, J.
COLLECTOR'S OFFICE, Feb. 15, 1861.

Sir: I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 13th instant, relative to the action of this office with reference to merchandise belonging to and intended for your citizens; and in reply to inform you that imported merchandise continues to be entered for warehousing at this port, and is permitted to be withdrawn for transportation to the Louisianna ports of delivery as heretofore. The custom entry for warehousing and transportation is also continued.

The only change consequent upon the succession of this State being the necessity for a change in the port of entry, is that as this port, the obligation is to the State of Louisiana; and the bonds are cancelled on production of your certificate or that of other custom officers as hitherto. Goods warehoused in bond are re-warehoused as usual, and forwarded under the transportation code above mentioned.

This is the practice now existing. Dependence or change will of course depend upon the action of the Provisional Government now established in Montgomery, Ala.

H. H. HATCH, Collector.

Messrs. Cassedy & Son, one of the oldest establishments in the city, and one of the largest importing houses in the Western country, have received the following from their agents at New Orleans: "Louisians cannot acknowledge the bonds given to the Federal Government, but there is no desire on the part of the State to detain shipments. But for goods in transit the State requires bond and security to be given by citizens of the State that the wages will go forward to their proper destination, and a certificate will be required that this duty has been performed."

THE PILGRIMS.—We find that our nation of this unique organization that paraded Saturday night is misapprehended. The persons belonging to it are gentlemen of respectability, and their object was only a pleasant burlesque, and very successful it was. They only refreshed a couple of times, and are by no means habitues of coffee-houses, as might have been apprehended from our notice.

CURE FOR HOG CHOLERA.—It is known that large rewards have been offered by societies and organizations of various countries for the discovery of a certain cure for hog cholera. Mr. K. D. Cook, of Rockcastle county, Ky., who has been experimenting in that way, avers that he has made the coveted discovery. His prescription embraces apple brandy, soda, and a small quantity of tar, which, he says, he has used with unfailing success.

FAILURES IN JANUARY.—The New York Herald gives a list of the failures in the United States for the month of January of the last five years. The condition of affairs at the present time is far worse than it was at any former period—even in 1858, when the effects of the financial revolution of the fall of 1857 first began to feel—as the following table, taken from the books of Dunn, Boyd & Co., will prove:

No. of Failures.
January, 1857..... 420
January, 1858..... 600
January, 1859..... 600
January, 1860..... 500
January, 1861..... 500

NEARLY COMPLETED.—The Paris (Tenn.) Sentinel has the following good news: "The Memphis, Clarksville and Louisville Railroad only lacks eight miles of its entire completion. The grading has long since been completed, and each day the iron will run directly through from Memphis to Louisville."

THE FLAG ON THE COURT-HOUSE.—The flag on the court-house was furnished by subscription among private citizens, who were the entire expense of the affair. It is pleasant to notice such incidents of private generosity in behalf of the loyal spirit of our citizens as evinced in the celebration on Friday.

Officer Gallagher yesterday arrested a man named Henry Williams, for stealing a quantity of clothing from Lawrence Hall, as he was going on board the mail boat leaving these parts.

AN OLD SCENE.—Mr. Doxat has retired on the editorship of the London Observer, after fifty-four years and six months' service, and is happy to hear, with a good grace, "O, si sic omnes."

ACCIDENT.—A Hoosier named Tribler, who is from Jeffersonville, yesterday came over to the land of Bourbon, and imbibing freely, fell against a curbstone, terribly biting his nose and mouth.

ACQUITTED.—Mr. John D. Hutsell, of Bourbon county, who was tried this week in the Montgomery Circuit Court, charged with perjury, was acquitted by the jury a few days ago.

INFORMATION WANTED.—The editor of the Bowling Green, Ky., Gazette is anxious to know the address of one Roger Flippin, formerly of California, now in some of the Atlantic States, for purposes important to himself and others.

An expression of fear is made in the South that the heavy snows of the past winter at the North will cause an unprecedented flood upon the opening of warm weather. Such an inundation as is anticipated would be terribly destructive.

The Citizen, Miss., advises its readers to plant corn in abundance. That's right. They will have to acknowledge the corn.

Col. Hamilton, of Texas, it is stated, will refuse to resign his seat in the House.

Amusements.
THURSDAY.—The announcement of two comparatively new plays brought out a larger audience than before. Miss St. Clair, always graceful and fascinating, surpassed herself last evening. The part of Clarisse is well suited to her beautiful face and figure, and to her grace and naïveté of manner. Mr. Barnes' personation of Verigo Morbid was a renewed and redoubled success. The Hypochondriac is one of the most amusing personations of the modern stage, and can only be properly exhibited by Mr. Barnes.

THE INAUGURATION.—Vice President Lincoln will be inaugurated in the Senate Chamber, and President Lincoln immediately after, on a platform projecting from the east front of the Capitol. Chief Justice Taney will administer the oath of office to Lincoln.

We learn from the officers of the New Albany jail that King, who is confined for the murderous assault and daring robbery of Mr. Morrison last fall, has damaged the jail building and furniture to the amount of more than fifty dollars. He has been so troublesome since his confinement, says the New Albany Ledger, that the jailer has been obliged to keep him alone in his cell, day and night, for the last two weeks.

WOODS' MINSTRELS.—We are sure that we are conferring a favor on our amusement-loving friends in calling attention to the concert to be given by this admirably conducted company. The members of the troupe are accomplished gentlemen, all possessing an elevated and cultivated taste for music, and their entertainments are entirely free from that coarseness and lack of refinement. Their programmes embrace the gems of minstrelsy, and their humorous burlesques and "bits" at the fashionable follies of the day are always well conceived and admirably executed. But it is impossible to enumerate the numerous excellencies of this talented company of artists. We advise our readers not to permit this opportunity of witnessing them to pass unimproved, and our word for it, they will never regret it.

CONCERT.—We have the pleasure of announcing another concert by the Musical Fund Society, to take place on Thursday evening next. The programme will include a variety of new musical gems, and the entire concert will be of the most recherche character. We will refer more explicitly to the concert hereafter.
